Your Guide to Orca's Books for Striving Readers

EVERY KIND OF HI-LO FOR EVERY KIND OF READER

"Every kid deserves the right to read a good book regardless of their reading abilities."

—Canadian Children's Book News

What makes Orca's high-interest, low-reading-level (hi-lo) different? At its heart is our talented group of Canadian authors, who work closely with our editors to meet not only the technical requirements of writing for the aspiring-reader audience but also the need for a good story, well told. And our fans recognize this—time and time again they return to the shelf for more Orca stories, and striving readers soon gain confidence and reap the benefits that reading brings to all aspects of their lives.

ORCA BOOK PUBLISHERS produces books that illuminate the experiences of people of all ethnicities, people with disabilities and people who identify as LGBTQ. Our goal is to provide reading material that represents the diversity of human experience to readers of all ages. Orca aims to help young readers see themselves reflected in the books they read. We are mindful of this in our selection of books and have a particular interest in publishing books that celebrate the lives of Indigenous people. Providing young people with exposure to diversity through reading creates a more compassionate world.
